Child restraints for all vehicles

All children aged seven years and under must travel in an approved child restraint. The type of restraint required for your child depends on their age and size. Guests must refer to the child restraint instruction manual for the appropriate child restraint. Below is a guide:

Child Restraint	Child Seat ¹	Booster Seat ²	Adult lap-sash seatbelt ³
Applicable Age Group	0 to 4 years	4 to 7 years	7 years or older (and above 145cm tall)

1. Child Seat

Children aged from birth to four years must travel in an approved, properly fastened and adjusted child seat:

- Children aged under six months must travel in an approved, properly fastened and adjusted, rear-facing child restraint. In Australia it is recommended children remain rear-facing up to 12 months of age as they cannot turn forward-facing until their shoulders reach the entry level height marker on the restraint.
- Children aged between six months and four years must travel in an approved, properly fastened and adjusted, rear-facing child restraint OR a forward-facing child restraint with an in-built harness (the child's shoulders must reach the minimum height marker before facing-forward).

An anchor point is required for this seat.

2. Booster Seat

Children aged between four years and seven years must travel in an approved, properly fastened and adjusted, forward-facing child restraint with an in-built harness OR an approved booster seat which is properly positioned and fastened with a standard lap-sash seatbelt; whichever one is appropriate for their age and size. A booster seat should be used until the child reaches 145cm tall.

The booster seat provided may feature a top tether strap that needs to be fitted to an anchor point.

3. Adult Lap-Sash Seatbelt

An adult lap-sash seatbelt is designed for people with a minimum height of 145cm. A child should continue using a forward-facing restraint or booster seat until they have outgrown it.
